All curved and circle letters begin like letter c shape, starting with a curve from the top.

Make letter c and continue into a circle.

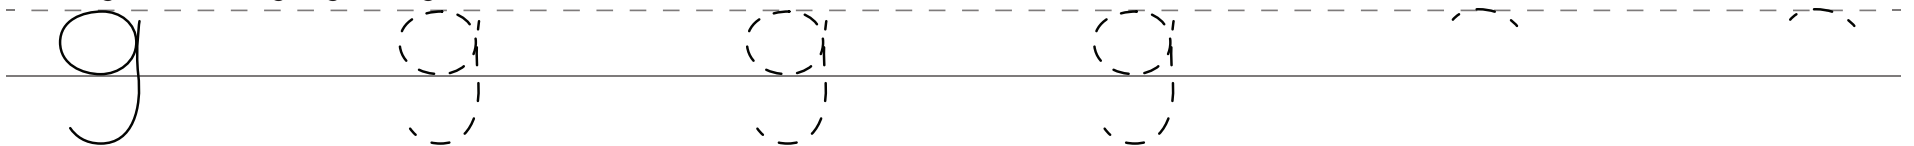

Make letter c, continue into a circle, and draw a straight line down to the bottom without taking the pencil off the paper.

Letter d is letter a with its hand up. "I know the answer, teacher, I know the answer!"

Letter g is letter a going fishing.

Here is letter a going fishing the other way.

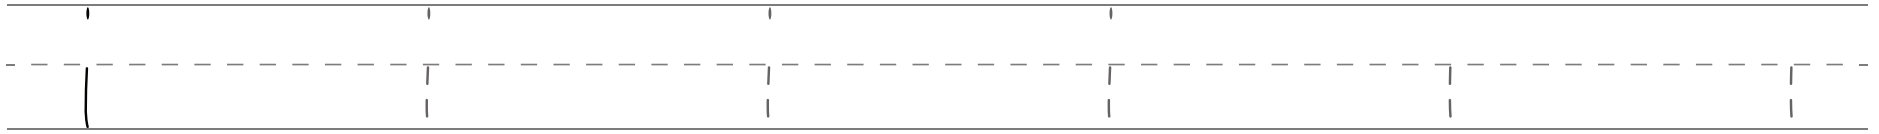

Start a line from left to right. Without taking the pencil off the paper, make a c around it. Make a table, then jump over and under it.

Start halfway above the line and go down to the line. Put the dot on last.

Letter j is an i going fishing. Start like an i.

Make a straight line down, go back up it, and give it a baseball cap! Don't take the pencil off the paper.

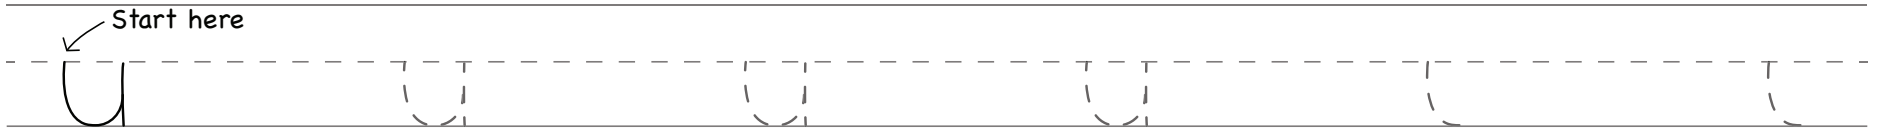

Go down the driveway. Wrong house! Go back up the driveway and go down next door's driveway. Not on their grass!

Same as n, but you went to the wrong house twice! Stay on their driveways.

Go down, curve, go up, then go down the same line, so it doesn't roll over!

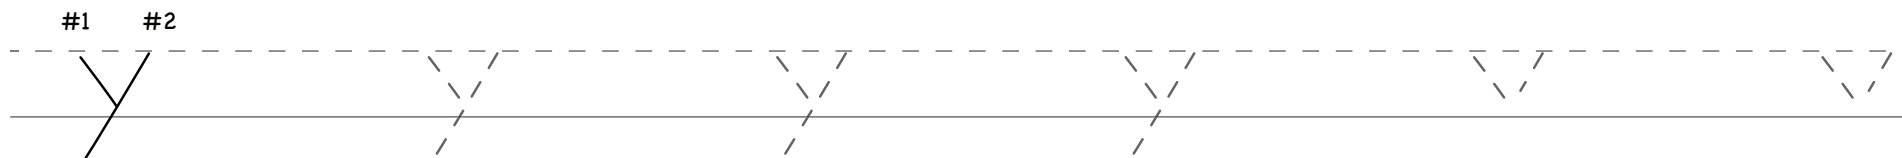

Start halfway above the line. Go straight down into the water. Then make a circle beside it.

Slide down #1 hill from the top to the ground. Lift the pencil off and start at the top of #2 hill. Slide down into the water!

Slide down #1 hill to the ground. Lift the pencil off and slide down #2 hill, crossing over in the middle.

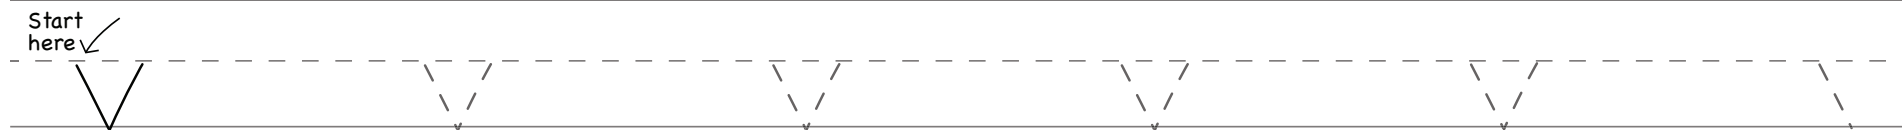

Run across the top. Slide down the hill. Run home.

Make a snake from the top. Have it curl under its head.

Jump down to the ground and bounce up!

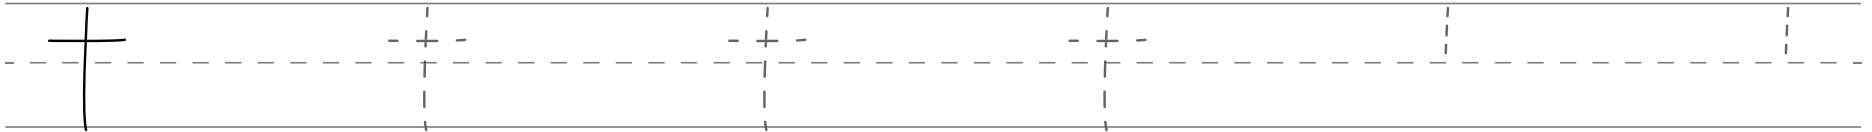

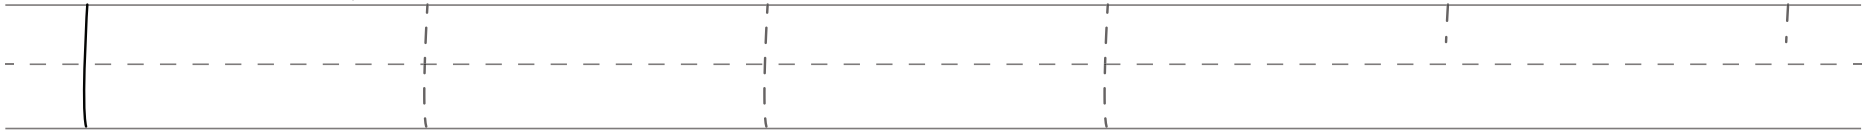

Jump down and bounce twice!
